1. What Are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files placed on your device when you visit a website or use a web application. They allow the application to remember information about your session and preferences across page loads and visits.

2. How We Use Cookies

Nexive uses cookies exclusively to operate the application and remember your preferences. We do not use cookies for advertising, cross-site tracking, or analytics.

3. Cookies We Use

3.1 Strictly Necessary Cookies

These cookies are required to provide the service you explicitly request. Without them, you cannot log in or use the platform. They include cookies that store your language preferences and user interface settings.

Cookie name	Purpose	Expiry
sessionId	Stores your authentication token after login. Used to verify your identity on every request.	3 hours
locale	Stores your chosen display language	365 days
template-columns-{templateId}	Stores which table columns you have chosen to show or hide for a given object template. One cookie is set per template you have customized.	365 days

Legal basis: These cookies are strictly necessary to provide a functioning and secure service. No consent is needed.

4. Cookies We Do Not Use

We do not use:

Analytics cookies — we do not track page views or user behaviour via third-party tools such as Google Analytics.

Marketing or advertising cookies — we do not serve targeted ads or share data with advertising networks.

Third-party cookies — all cookies listed above are set by Nexive directly. No third-party scripts set cookies on our platform.

6. How to Control Cookies

You can control and delete cookies through your browser settings. Please note that disabling strictly necessary cookies will prevent you from logging on to Nexive.
